WASHINGTON, D.C. – Two singing icons converge on the DC Armory this Saturday for the “AS 1” concert, a show featuring legendary Filipino artists Martin Nievera and Gary Valenciano on the same stage for the first time.

Opening acts include Ivy Rose, Leo Biernes and Stephanie Reese. Doors open at 3 p.m. and the show begins at 4 p.m.

Known as the “Concert King,” Nievera is renowned for his stirring ballads and such tunes as “Be My Lady” and “Ikaw Ang Lahat Sa Akin.” Nievera has a string of multi-platinum albums to his credit and is a celebrated concert performer.

Valenciano, aka “Mr. Pure Energy,” has entertained crowds with his superb vocal prowess and energy both on and off the stage for many years. His popular Filipino hits include “You Got Me Working,” “Reaching Out,” and “Move Your Body” among others.

“In terms of Filipino music, this is a groundbreaking concert as two of the music’s giants are celebrating their collective artistry on one stage,” said Erik A. Moses, managing director of the WCSA Sports, Entertainment and Special Events division. “It is our objective to bring in diverse and compelling entertainment to the nation’s capital. This show will be a treat.”
